

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PROLOGUE , In rerum natura	9
--	---

Part One

PHILOSOPHY OF NATURE

Chapter One • Philosophy

1.1 Love and wisdom	15
1.2 Science and the sciences.	21
1.3 Philosophy as a universal science	24
1.4 Philosophy and method	26
1.5 Philosophy and common knowledge.	29
1.6 Philosophy and cultures	32
1.7 Philosophy and Faith	34
1.8 Philosophy and its history.	38
Excursus – Science and Faith.	41

Chapter Two • Nature

2.1 Etymology of the term	45
2.2 Nature in an extensive sense	47
2.3 Nature in an intensive sense	49
2.4 In rerum natura	51
2.5 Historical view	51

Chapter Three • Philosophy of Nature

3.1 The philosophy of nature as a theoretical knowledge	55
3.2 Philosophy of nature as physics	58
3.3 Philosophy of nature as ontology.	61
3.4 Philosophy of nature as “the science of bodies”.	63
3.5 Philosophy of nature and philosophy of science	64
Excursus – Emergence	66
Excursus – Complexity.	68
Excursus – Holism	70

Chapter Four • Natural Sciences

4.1 The scientific revolution	75
4.2 The Galilean method	81
4.3 For and against the method	86
4.4 Philosophy of nature and the natural sciences	91
Excursus – Ecology.	96
Excursus – Technique and technology	100

Part Two

BODIES

Chapter One • The Being of the Bodies

1.1 The analogy of being	107
1.2 The unity of being	111
1.3 Substance in philosophical terminology and in other contexts	117
1.4 The analogy of substance.	119
1.5 Brief historico-philosophical development	119

Chapter Two • The Corporeal Substance

2.1 The hylomorphic composition of substances	123
2.2 The potentiality of matter.	125
2.3 The actuality of form	127
Excursus – Matter, antimatter, dark matter	129

Chapter Three • The Variety of Bodies

3.1 Individual and specific substances	131
3.2 Natural and artificial substances.	133
3.3 Complex substances and aggregates of substances.	134
Excursus – The species.	139
Excursus – Evolution and evolutionism	143

Chapter Four • The Organism

4.1 The living body	149
Excursus – Male and female	155
Excursus – Gender.	161
Excursus – Neurosciences.	164

Part Three

MOVEMENT

Chapter One • Change

1.1 Phenomenology of change	169
1.2 Philosophical analysis	171
1.3 Very brief historical perspective	174
1.4 Accidental and substantial change.	175
Excursus – Quantum mechanics.	179

Chapter Two • Causality

2.1 The four causes: theoretical explanation	183
2.2 The causality of nature	186
Excursus – Determinism and indetermination.	188

Part Four

CHARACTERISTICS OF BODIESChapter One • Fundamental Characteristics of Bodies

1.1	The accidents of the bodily substance	195
1.2	Dimensive quantity, predicamental and transcendental unity, plurality . .	199
1.2.1	Dimensive quantity	199
1.2.2	Predicamental and transcendental unity	205
1.2.3	Plurality	205
1.3	Quality	207
1.4	Relation	214
	Excursus – Euclidean geometry and non-Euclidian geometries	217
	Excursus – The reality of numbers and figures	221

Chapter Two • Relative Characteristics

2.1	Space and place	225
2.2	Time	229
	Excursus – Analog and digital	235
	Excursus – Relativity	237
	Excursus – Infinity	240

Part Five

NATURAL ORDERChapter One • The Laws of Nature

1.1	The nature of the law	245
1.2	Laws and nature	246
1.3	Lex aeterna	249
	Excursus – Philosophy of the creature and theology of nature	252
	Excursus – The cosmological and anthropic principles	254

Chapter Two • The Order of the Universe

2.1	Nature and order	257
2.2	Nature and disorder	259
2.3	Chance and evil	262
	Excursus – Disorder and entropy	267
	Excursus – Creation, Big Bang, Design	270
	Excursus – Strings, superstrings and brane	274

EPILOGUE	277
-----------------	-----------	-----

PRACTICE QUESTIONS

Part One	Philosophy of Nature	279
Part Two	The Bodies	281
Part Three	Motion	284
Part Four	The Characteristics of Bodies	285
Part Five	Natural Order	286

■ TABLE OF CONTENTS

SOLUTIONS TO PRACTICE QUESTIONS

Part One	Philosophy of Nature	289
Part Two	The Bodies	289
Part Three	Motion	290
Part Four	The Characteristics of Bodies.	291
Part Five	Natural Order	291

BIBLIOGRAPHIC INDICATIONS

I.	Manuals Review	293
II.	Cited texts	296
	a. Primary Sources	297
	b. Secondary Sources	301
	c. Magisterium of the Catholic Church	308
	d. Literary Works	309
	Index of Names	311